On the 3rd of September, 2018, the Anti-Ragging Committee and the Internal Complaint Committee of our institution jointly organized a program focused on "Women's Safety and Laws." The event aimed to raise awareness among students about the legal rights and safety measures available to women and to educate them on the steps to take in situations of harassment or abuse.

The program commenced at 10:30 AM in the college auditorium with a welcome speech delivered by the Principal, who emphasized the need for awareness regarding women's safety in today's world. The audience, comprising students, faculty members, and staff, actively participated in the session.

The chief guest of the event, Advocate Neha Suryavanshi, a renowned legal expert in women's rights, delivered an insightful and engaging talk. Her session focused on the importance of understanding the laws that protect women in India, such as the Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013, the Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act, 2005, and laws related to ragging and harassment.

Advocate Suryavanshi emphasized that students, especially women, must be aware of the legal provisions available to them to ensure their safety and security. She highlighted how the Internal Complaint Committee (ICC) within institutions plays a crucial role in addressing grievances related to harassment. She also explained the procedure for filing complaints and encouraged students to come forward without fear if they face any form of abuse or violence.

The session was interactive, with students asking several questions about their rights, the process of reporting incidents, and the legal framework that ensures justice. Advocate Suryavanshi patiently addressed all queries, providing practical guidance to students on how to handle difficult situations and assert their rights.

In her concluding remarks, Advocate Neha Suryavanshi stressed the importance of fostering a safe and inclusive environment for women, both on campus and in society. She urged students to be vigilant and supportive of one another, ensuring that no one suffers in silence.

The program concluded with a vote of thanks by the chairperson of the Anti-Ragging Committee, expressing gratitude to Advocate Neha Suryavanshi for her valuable insights and guidance. The event was a great success in raising awareness about women's safety and the legal safeguards available to them, encouraging a sense of responsibility among students to create a safer campus environment.

This report highlights the key aspects of the program and underscores the role of the Anti-Ragging and Internal Complaint Committees in promoting a culture of respect and safety for women.

On the occasion of International Women’s Day, the Anti-Ragging Committee, in collaboration with the Sexual Harassment Prevention Committee, organized a guest lecture on the pressing issue of “Female Foeticide.” The event was held in our college on 10th March 2019 at 9:00 a.m. and was attended by all staff and students.

The program began with a formal introduction of the Chief Guest, Mrs. Shobhatai Naik, by Dr. D. Y. Jamadar. Mrs. Naik delivered an informative and thought-provoking talk on female foeticide, shedding light on its impact on society, women's rights, and the moral and legal implications. Her insights resonated with the audience, raising awareness about this critical social issue, particularly in the context of International Women’s Day.

The event was efficiently anchored by Mrs. Sugandha Chikhale, who kept the program engaging and well-structured. Dr. M. R. Gejage concluded the program by expressing a heartfelt vote of thanks to all the participants, organizers, and the Chief Guest for making the event a success. The principal, Dr. Ujwala Patil, presided over the function and highlighted the importance of continued efforts toward gender equality and combating harmful practices like female foeticide.

The workshop was a success in raising awareness about gender issues and promoting a safe, informed, and supportive environment within the college community. The Anti-Ragging Committee and the Sexual Harassment Prevention Committee received positive feedback from participants, reinforcing the need for more such initiatives in the future.

The guest lecture's specifics are depicted in the accompanying images.
